

Some Final Tips for High School & for Life ~ from Mr. Yesaki☺

- 1) Listen carefully for the first few weeks. Listen more than speak. You'll learn a lot more from listening and observing than you will from talking all the time.
- 2) Make good choices. The wrong choices can give you a negative reputation from teachers and other students.
- 3) Choose friends who are kind and responsible. You'll know how important this is when you are an adult.
- 4) Join a team or a club. You'll meet new people, and you'll have new experiences. School is much, much better when you are involved.
- 5) Challenge yourself. If you don't challenge yourself, you get accustomed to things being too easy. Then, two things happen: 1) you won't know what you're capable of accomplishing. 2) Other people will quickly and easily pass you by in everything.
- 6) Enjoy the good and the "bad". You learn from both ~ too many people focus on fun/happiness not realizing that it's the tough times/sadness which makes you stronger.

I wish you all the best. And, I will see you all again. ☺☺
